and especially is this rule to be observed at card, tennis and dinner parties. Twenty, or double that number of persons, are often kept waiting by one impolite guest, who, to be fashionable, comes late; and it seems not only to be a fault of the would-be fashionable. "Cards" at eight o'clock means that the game begins at eight at the time named. "Tennis" at five, oes not mean any time from that hour unti sight, and above all, promptness at dinner, lunch or tea should be regarded as one of the demands incurred by the acceptance of the invitation. Punctuality is the perfection of po-

It is disputed that a desoction of violets with boiling milk poured over them made the Empress Josephine beautiful forever, and gave to be complexion that marvelous tint which was the wonder and despair of the French ladies of her time. A modern belle says the wife of Napoleon was made beautiful by eating a beauty lunch of onions every night before retiring, and the cosmetic, though less fragrant, will answer the violet purpose. Young men will hereafter have due regard for the young woman who eats onions. The onion lunches will be made the feature of every young woman's day, or rather night, and no matter how late her beau stays, she will partake of it. For if there is one desire above another of the average woman, it is to be beautiful.

The social event in Shelbyville circles last week was the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon A. Gorgas, which took place on Wednesday afternoon and evening at the residence of their daughter, Mrs. N. H. Strong. Mr. and Mrs. Gorgas lived in Shelbyville between thirty-five and forty years, and recently have resided in Washington, D. C. They were assisted in entertaining by their daughters, Mrs. Elinor Scott, of Washington, and Mrs. Emma Strong and Mrs. Laura Fleming and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clara Elliott Gorgas. Many old friends called and telegrams were received from several States and from Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Gorgas entered the parlor at the stroke of the same hour made by the old clock, which they have had for the fifty years, as the time they were married. Mrs. Gorgas were a dress of white, trimmed with gold passementerie, appropriate to the occasion, and wore a solid gold belt-buckle that she had on her wedding gown. A great many lovely presents were sent, among them a design of fifty roses. The father, mother and sisters presented Mrs. Scott with a gold watch, and the date being the twenty-first birthday of Mrs. Fleming's son, Mr. Harry C. Wilson, he was given a watch by his mother. Mr. and Mrs. Gorgas will return to Washington about the first of August.

DEATH FROM CARBOLIC ACID.

Oscar W. Doran Found Dying, with Strong Evidence of Murder Against His Wife.

A death under mysterious circumstances occurred in the Elm House, Columbus, about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Oscar W. Doran, engineer of the cerealine mills there, was found dying in his room, which he had occupied auring the night with his wife, who went to him from this city recently. There were evidences that carbolic acid had been given him. The liquid had been spilled over his face and breast, which were badly burned. Furthermore, a bottle tost had contained the acid was found in an alley not far from the window of the room occupied by the Dorans. When Doran went from this city, two months ago, to Columbus, he boarded at the Phillips House, and two or three weeks Mrs. Doran followed her husband and, on going to the Phillips House, quarreled with him, when she told him, in the presence of the landlady, that she would yet kill him, if she had to poison him. She then left and came back to this city, but she returned Friday evening, when she was refused admittance at the Phillips House. She went to the Eim House, and sent word to her husband she wanted to see him. When he went off duty at 12 o'clock that night he went to the Phillips House, and after eating a lunch, told Mr. Phillips that he was going to the Elm House to see his wife and persuade her to go back to Indianapolis. That was the last seen of him alive.

Mrs. Doran was arrested, but she claims that i was a suicide. Doran's friends, however, think there has been foul play. Both parties are well known in this city. Doran himself has always been a peaceable man and gave satisfaction to his embloyers. He was first employed here by Kingan & Co. as fireman. Afterwards he was engaged by the Hoosier State mills, on West Washington street, in the same capacity, but was soon promoted to engineer. His wife is reputed to be a very disagreeable woman, one with whom it is hard to get along. At the time of her marriage with Doran, nine years ago, she was in a house of ill repute in this city. She seemed to have a high regard for her husband, and was of an exceedingly jealous dispo-sition. After their marriage, the couple resided at 172 Blackford street, but they seemingly did not live happily together, their quarrels often coming to blows. She claims that Doran often threatened to kill himself, simply because he wished to get rid of presence. At one time he wounded her to such an extent that she lost use of her left arm. On they broke up housekeeping and took rooms at No. 21 North West street. Soon after this he was discharged from the Hoosier mills, and began to search for employment. He became involved with another woman, so his wife claims, by the name of Sadie James, formerly Sadie

To the officers Mrs. Doran further said that she bought the carbolic acid here, as she and her husband used it mixed with water as an band took the acid by mistake, but the marks on her fingers and neck of the acid further suggest the theory of murder. She admits that she threatened to kill him, but says she did not mean it. A bottle of laudanum was found on her when she was taken to the jail.

How Edison Killed Cockroaches.

New York Telegram. Years ago, when Thomas A. Edison was a telegraph operator in the office of the old Franklin company, on Wall street, he was continually getting himself into trouble by perpetrating electrical pranks on his brother operators. The instruments in those days were placed on shelfike desks ranged along the walls of the operating-room, and Edison's place was in a corner of the room. Here he concected all his schemes for making life miserable to everyone and everything about him. The office seemed to be the rendezvous for all the cockroaches in the lower part of the city, and Edison hit on a novel plan to exterminate them one by one. He rigged up a wire along the wall, and then catching one of the insects put it to death in the short and painless fashion approved by Commodore Gerry. One by one the insects were "sparked out" of existence, until finally Edison became known to the Franklin boys as "Cockroach Tom."

In the cloak-room was a large tank generally filled with ice water, beside which hung a tin dipper on a nail in the wall. Edison connected this pail with a wire at the other end of which were 190 cells of Fuller battery, strong enough to make one think he had been struck by the paddle-wheel of a Fall river steamer. The future "Wizard of Menlo" then placed a sign below the dipper requesting all to "Please run this dip-

His request was heeded. The dipper was never taken down, but there were a dozen or more wrenched arms in the office in less than All this time the vouthful inventor was work ing on the quadruple telegraph scheme, which be afterward perfected, and which is now the principal system in use by the Western Union

Big Locomotives.

Philadelphia Leader.

The Baldwin locomotive-works recently turned out six of the largest bituminous coal locomotives ever built at that establishment. They are for the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, and are designed to make the run from New York to New Haven, with a full express train, seventy-two miles, in eighty minutes. They weigh each 212,000 nounds. The cylinders works have also just completed six of the beav-iest freight locomotives ever built by them, four being for the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, and two for the Central railroad of New Jersey. They are of the consolidation type, with cylinders twenty-two inches in diameter twenty-eight inches stroke, and each weight

The New Feminine Foot.

Hitherto, shoes have tended to make a girl's feet seem like something separate and distinct from herself. Now it is different. Her summer shoes are midway between slippers and galters in extent, and they will be made of material matching the stockings and dress. Thus ber feet appear to really belong to her, as much ac as though they were bare.

The pliability of the suede kid enables her to be—so far as decorum permits—as expressive with her feet as with her hands. So pedal shapeliness and cuppleness counts for a great deal this season, and it is a fact, more than a fancy that many a girl can walk right into the heart of a fellow. A pair of No. 2's clad is the highest style of delicacy will make him feel that if she were to "jump on him with both feet." as the slang goes, he would be simply delighted.

Standing in with Powderly.

Customer-Mr. Scales, I have an action against you. I bought some of your "pure roasted and ground coffee" the other day, and is was such curious-tasting stuff that I took the trouble to have it analyzed."

Grocer-Yes! "Yes, eir; and here is the result. You seenot a particle of coffee in it." "Of course there isn't. My dear sir, you don't understand. It is only a move on our part to break down the coffee monopolists. You know that Powderly appeals to the workingmen to boycott coffee! Well, sir, we are with Powderly to the death." Ussound from the Beginning.

Atlanta Constitution. It is to be regretted that so many pious peowith answers to Bob Ingersoll's attack upon Christian religion. Why answer Mr. Ingersoll at all! He advances nothing new, nothing that has not been answered before. When the first Napoleon was a prisoner at St. Helena he made an off-hand talk to his officers, in which he disposed of every point made by Ingersoll and other infidels. The people who are convinced by Ingersoll were convinced before. They were unsound from the beginning.

Hardly Necessary. Boston Advertiser.

They weigh each 212,000 pounds. The cylinders are twenty inches in diameter, with twenty-two inches stroke, and the driving wheels are sixty-eight inches in diameter. The builders have been informed that one of the engines made a run. with seven cars, up a grade thirty feet to the mile, at a speed of sixty miles per hour. The
